

Schedule for Saturday 2 October 2004

12.30pm

Chelsea Police will close Sydney Place and Onslow Gardens from Fulham Road to Pelham Street

12.35pm

By the traffic island outside South Kensington Station between Melton Court and Malvern Court, London SW7, the Guildhall Brass Ensemble conducted by Malcolm Rudland will play Eric Crees's arrangements of Peter Warlock's Cod-pieces and Capriol.

12.55pm

The Mayoral car will arrive with the Deputy Mayor of Kensington and Chelsea, Councillor Dr Iain Hanham and the Deputy Mayoress, Councillor The Lady Hanham

12.58pm

The Hungarian Ambassador's motorcade will arrive with the official guests of honour

1pm

The proceedings will be opened by Katalin Bogyay, Director of the Hungarian Cultural Centre

1.10pm

Dr István Hiller, the Hungarian Minister of Culture and a representative of the British Government's Ministry of Culture will unveil the statue to Béla Bartók

1.15pm

Sir Charles Mackerras will conduct Bartók's Sixth Dance in Bulgarian Rhythm from Book Six of Mikrokosmos with the Guildhall Brass Ensemble

1.19pm

The Rt. Hon. David Mellor QC will speak of his connections with Béla Bartók

1.24pm

The Brompton Oratory Junior Choir directed by Ian Coleman will sing three part-songs by Bartók

1.28pm

Malcolm Rudland will outline the story behind this unveiling

1.30pm

Peter Laki will sing a Bartók song

1.32pm

The Hungarian Ambassador, Mr Béla Szombati will then invite all to a reception with Hungarian wine and food at the Royal Brompton Hospital, and to arrive there by following our very own Pied Piper of Chelsea, Daniel P Gillingwater (tenor) who will lead the procession, singing Warlock's The cricketers of Hambledon accompanied by the Guildhall Brass Ensemble

3.15pm

Opposite the hospital, in St Luke's Church, Chelsea, a Warlock and Bartók Concert, devised and conducted by Malcolm Rudland will feature the Elysian Quartet with David Mellor (viola) and the Guildhall Brass Ensemble, with Bartók's First String Quartet and Six Dances in Bulgarian Rhythm from Book Six of Mikrokosmos arranged for brass, and Warlock's brass Capriol, and The Curlew for tenor, flute, cor anglais and string quartet, sung in Hungarian by Peter Laki (tenor)

Suggested donation £5 each

From 5.30pm to 8pm

A Hungarian supper will be served at the Royal Brompton Hospital.

Cost c.£4 including wine

Booking for and more details of all these events from Malcolm Rudland, 32a Chipperfield House, Cale Street, London SW3 3SA
Tel 020 7589 9595, e-mail : mrudland@talk21.com